As she was starting to sit he caught a glance of her and reflexively jumped away from. I've included graphic images near biblical and scientific citations to illustrate what I believe they refer to, e.

The Unsearchable Riches of Christ

Bramall, S. In the non-occupational setting, high-intensity music listening has been clearly linked to temporary hearing impairment and disturbances in the setting of pop and rock music concerts 15163435 Meanwhile, data on discotheque attendees although sparse, shows considerable rates of post-exposure tinnitus in those attending 3436 ; temporary threshold shifts have so far not been documented Nevertheless, measured sound intensities alone are enough to suggest the possibility of hearing damage risks for discotheque attendants An interesting conclusion can be drawn from the three studies undertaken by Weichbold and Zorowka: in the high-school age population under study, information on hearing risks alone leads to significantly limited hearing protection behaviour.
